

Can a bio, psycho, social and cultural management sing in harmony with osteopathy?

Can we integrate the bio, psycho, social and cultural management elements with OMT? The answer is yes – we are already integrating it into OMT but we don't necessarily see it. In this presentation Prof. Lederman will explore existing links between these elements and OMT, and how they can be enhanced to provide a better and more person-centred experience.